BANKING, FINANCE AND INSURANCE

Africa is a large market for the financial sector, especially for banking institutions and other intermediaries and/or operators in the financial and insurance sector.

Progress in this area, particularly in financial inclusion, contributes to sustainable development. Rapid technological change and innovation, particularly the spread of cell phones, are boosting access to financial services. Financial technology companies (FinTech) are changing the financial sector landscape by making it easier than ever to access these services.

The liberalization of the insurance sector has propelled several operators into the market.

Elite Law Firm's lawyers and consultants diligently monitor the ever-changing legal and regulatory frameworks of these industries.

Thanks to the skills they have acquired, they can provide services that are adapted to the needs of investors, financial institutions and companies operating in the insurance field.
